

WATER COOLER

WISDOM

RULE #10
Lead with Passion,
Humility
& Love

A leader's character is far more important than his or her skills. The most important character traits of a leader are humility; the willingness to give up power; courage; integrity; and love and passion for the people, values, and mission of the organization. Love prompts us to visit our employees around the world. Love makes us want to work extra time. Love pushes us to do whatever it takes to help others succeed. Love forgives mistakes and binds up the hurt and frustrated. Leaders who create dynamic, rewarding, enjoyable workplaces love people. Love is an act of humility that says, "I need you." Love affirms that the other person is worthy and important. The key is letting others make important decisions. When you lead with passion, humility, and love, people at all levels of the organization experience joy at work.. Discover the Joy at Work Revolution: www.DennisBakke.com

WATCH OUT FOR NEXT MONTH FOR ANOTHER RULE.

JOY
AT WORK